

Research is an Ongoing Process

Choose and Refine Your Topic

Come up with a topic or subject matter that interests you within your discipline.

Brainstorm Keywords

Consider the keywords related to your topic as they will later be used to conduct your research.

Choose a Database

The UBC Research Guides can help you find online resources narrowed down by discipline.

Evaluate Your Sources

Is this information accurate and relevant?
Whose perspectives and biases are present?

Need assistance with any of these?

Consult a library expert online through AskAway or at any of our research help desks on campus.

